

Socials Directors Responsibilities

The Socials Directors (usually two directors ) plan and oversee four or more social events during the Landlovers year. These events typically include:

- An Opening Celebration, usually held in the last week of September, and offers free admission to all residents of Skidaway. This event is a solicitation for membership and includes an activity fair for all Landlovers activities, as well as 10-12 other community activities in which members are likely to participate.
- A holiday party, usually held in early-mid December with varying themes and locations. This event is only open to Landlovers members and typically has a fee to attend.
- A mid-winter party, usually held in February with varying themes and locations. This event is only open to Landlovers members and typically has a fee to attend.
- The Closing Celebration and Annual Meeting, usually held in late May. The Annual Meeting portion of this event is open to all Landlovers members and attendance is free. The Celebration portion of this event may require an attendance fee.

Socials Directors may plan and manage all events themselves, or they may appoint committees to help with managing specific events. The Directors are responsible for the event budgets and for providing content to the Landlovers Communications Directors in a timely way, to help market each event.
